

Jack and the Beanstalk

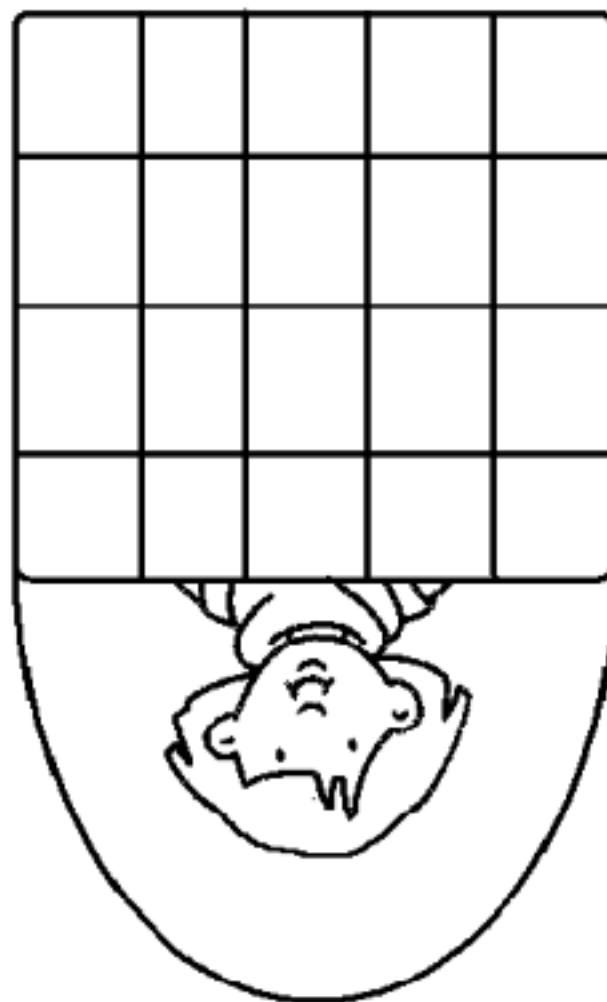

Jack and his mother were very poor. They had to sell their cow for money. Jack was told to take the cow to market.

On the way to market, Jack met a man and gave him the cow for some magic beans.

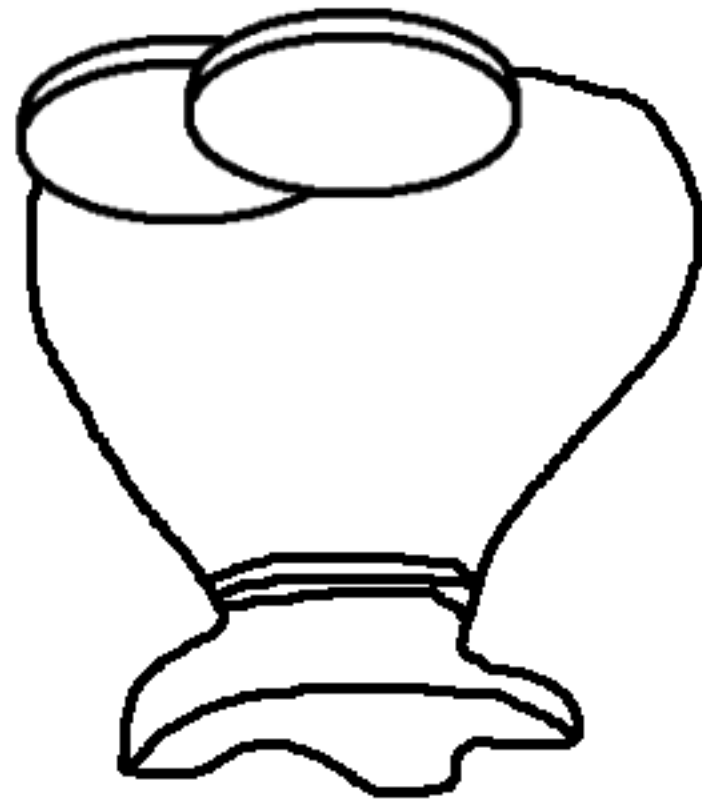

Jack's Mom was so mad she threw the beans out the window and sent Jack to bed without supper.

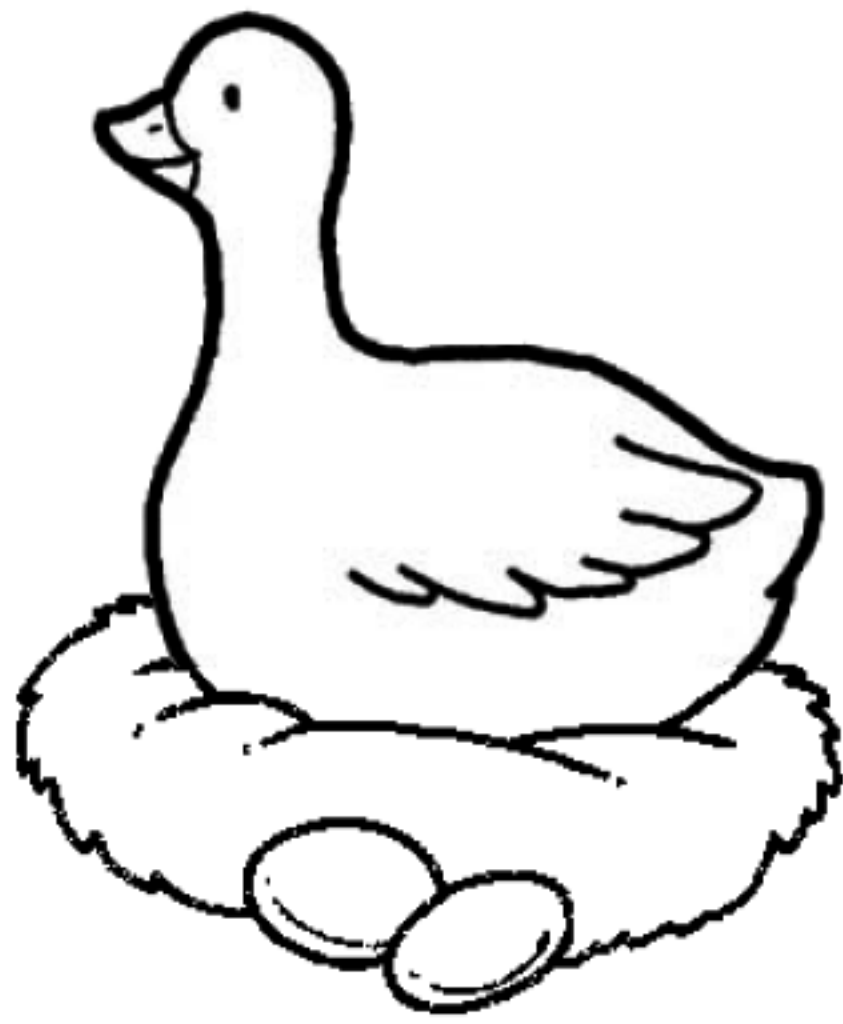

In the morning, Jack saw a beanstalk had grown to the sky. He went up it and saw a large land. He met a lady who gave him some food.

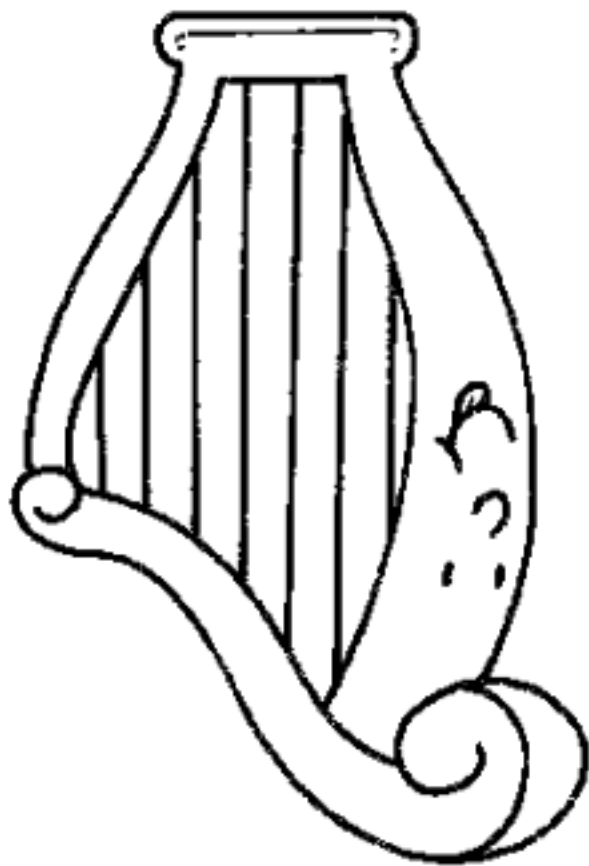

He was told of a giant that lived in the house. Jack had to hide from the giant. When the giant was asleep, Jack took a bag of gold and ran home.

Jack went up the beanstalk again. This time he took a goose that laid golden eggs.

Jack went up the beanstalk again. He took a singing golden harp, but the harp called out for help. The giant ran after Jack

Jack went down the beanstalk and called to his Mom for an axe. He chopped down the beanstalk. Jack and his Mom lived happily ever after.
