

Winter Olympics Matching/Memory Game

For younger children, print 2 copies of the picture cards on card paper to create a matching or memory game. For older children, print a copy of the picture cards and the sport name cards. For children who need a greater challenge, print one copy of all three pages. Children must match the picture to the name to the description to earn a set. Person with the most sets at the end of the game wins.

Athletes are attached to a board while performing jumps and twists or race in groups of 2 or 4 down a slope.

Athletes are timed as they race down a hill through a series of gates

In single competition, athletes perform in a short and long program while being marked by a panel of judges.

This game is played on ice. Stones are "thrown" down the ice towards rings. Brooms are used to sweep the ice.

Two teams play against each other trying to score a goal by shooting a puck in the net using a stick.

Skaters race as individuals or part of a team around an oval rink at top speed.

Teams of 2 or 4 push start the sled down an icy track then jump in with the driver in front steering.

Athletes move down an icy track on their backs while steering the sled with their legs and shoulders.

Athletes ski down a ramp and launch into the air. They are evaluated on style and distance.
